- Reading lists

Forestry Commons

The material provided below will assist members in preparing for the Professional Exam. The exam will test your knowledge of forestry-related legislation and policies. The extensive list of reference material has been divided into two reading lists:

- PRINCIPAL: this list contains all the forestry legislation and policies that ALL Forestry Professionals are expected to be knowledgeable about. Exam questions will be drawn from the materials referenced on this list. Please click here for reading list.
- SUPPLEMENTAL: this list contains additional reference material that provides more details, background and/or supporting information. You will want to be familiar with the reference materials that are related to your scope of practice. These documents will not be directly tested on the Exam, but may provide some supporting information that will aid in the comprehension of Forestry-related legislation and policy and how forestry is managed in Alberta.

Forest Reserves Act (F-20, RSA 2000)

Current as of March 11, 2004

Summary:

The Act confirmed the establishment of the Federal Forest Reserves in Alberta upon the 1930 Transfer of Resources Act. The one remaining reserve is commonly referred to as the Rocky Mountains Forest Reserve and is located on the Eastern slopes. Reserves were established for forest and vegetation conservation and to maintain conditions favourable to an optimum water supply.

Importance to the Practice of Forestry: The forest reserves are critical watershed areas for the central and southern portions of Alberta. All forest reserves within Alberta are set apart and established for the conservation of the forests and other vegetation in the forests and for the maintenance of conditions favourable to an optimum water supply. They are also important for timber, livestock grazing, recreation, wildlife and fishing. It should be noted that the Forest Reserve boundary does not align itself with the Green Area or Sustainable Resource Development administrative boundaries.
